If you come across any defect in materials or workmanship within the first two years of your purchase, we'll repair or replace the computer free of charge. All you'll need is proof of purchase.

Atlas | ADP Plan

During your school day, anything can happen. That's why our optional Accidental Damage Protection Plan extends your coverage by an additional year. As a bonus, each ADP Plan offers you a one-time claim to repair or replace any damaged device—no questions asked.

The ADP Plan also features a unique Claim Sharing Policy.*

Claim Sharing Policy

This is where things get really good. Instead of having to insure each computer with one ADP Plan apiece, you can buy a lump sum—or “bank”—of ADP Plans. Then, if a computer needs to be repaired or replaced, all you have to do is withdraw one of your ADP Plans for that device.

Here's an example:

1. You buy 1,000 Atlas computers for your students to use over the course of the next three years or so.
2. You anticipate that at some point during that time, you'll need to repair or replace maybe 350 computers.
3. So you purchase 350 ADP Plans.
4. Inevitably... CRASH! A classroom mishap occurs and a computer is damaged.
5. Not to worry. The cost to repair or replace the computer is automatically covered. Just withdraw an ADP Plan from your bank and apply it to the computer in question.
6. You ship us the device and we'll repair or replace it. Either way, you'll get a fully functional computer ASAP.
7. Now you've got a working computer plus 349 ADP Plans left to use for any future fixes.

*ADP Plans require you to purchase coverage for at least 35% of your computers. In other words, if you buy 1,000 Atlas laptops and want to insure them with ADP Plans, you must buy at least 350 ADP Plans.

The Claim Sharing Policy is designed to give you strategic purchasing power and save you money. Pretty sweet, right? We think so.
